How do you kill a Monster Cookie?
Answer: You dunk it in milk!

Dear Friends,

It's hard to believe October is already here and that the kids are fully into the school year and their fall sports.

As a busy working mom, I definitely appreciate things that help make our busy lives a little simpler. We hope that we can help to simplify your lives a little with some of our products. We have two delicious cookie dough flavors this fall that are perfect for Halloween parties.

We are also kicking off our Strawberry Milk special in October to benefit the National Breast Cancer Foundation, Inc. Breast Cancer affects so many people in our lives and we are excited to partner with this great organization to help give women and men the tools they need for early detection and treatment.

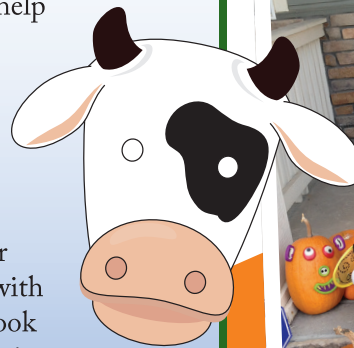

Happy Halloween!!

Katie

Hot Caramel Apple Cider

Tastes like hot apple pie in a cup! Made with Talbot's fresh Apple Cider and topped with Longmont Dairy Whipping Cream, this delicious recipe will warm you up even on the coolest autumn day.

- ¾ cup Longmont Dairy Whipping Cream (separated into ¼ and ½ cups)
- ¼ cup brown sugar (for saucepan)
- 1 Tbsp. brown sugar (for topping)
- 3 cups Talbot's Apple Cider or Juice
- ½ cup water

Over medium heat, combine ¼ cup whipping cream and ¼ cup brown sugar in large saucepan. When mixture begins to boil, add apple cider and water and increase heat slightly. Bring mixture to a boil, and then simmer.

In separate bowl, beat the remaining ½ cup whipping cream and 1 Tbsp. brown sugar together until soft peaks form. Pour cider mixture into mugs, top with whipped cream and brown sugar mixture, and serve warm. Makes four 8 oz. servings.
