

VOL. 23, NO. 11
November 2015

NEWS

920 Coffman, Longmont, Colorado 80501

www.LongmontDairy.com

(303) 776-8466

Longmont Dairy Farm, Inc.

NOVEMBER Happy Thanksgiving!

James May, Winner of the 2015 Egnog Bottle Design Contest

The winner of the 2015 Egnog Bottle Design Contest, with the theme of “Longmont Dairy’s Classic Christmas,” is James May. James, a Texas native, lives in Parker with his wife and their three children. James said that inspiration for the winning design was a collaborative effort from his wife and 5-year-old son.

“My wife is the creative one and gave her input on two renditions of the drawing,” said James. James said that he also checked with his son prior to submitting the entry. “When I drew it I asked my son, ‘what does this look like?’ When he said it looks like a cow I knew I was on the right track,” said James with a chuckle.

James said that his professional life gives him few opportunities to be creative. “I work in budget and finance for the government which is pretty much black and white,” said James. He says that his children challenge him to be creative, and they often ask him to make drawings for them to color.

James shared that he looks forward to showing his children the design once it is printed on the holiday egnog bottles. “I don’t think my kids understand that the drawing will be on the actual bottles and not just on paper,” said James. “It will be fun to see their reaction when they see the bottle.”

Dear Friends,

A couple of months ago, I listened to a famous woman eulogize her also famous husband by saying he was the most grateful man she had ever known. I was very moved by her statement. It touched my heart deeply in a couple of ways. First, it was such a genuine, loving description of her husband. And, secondly, it made me think, would people say the same of me?

As Thanksgiving Day approaches, I am sure many think about the things they are grateful for. Some may even share their thoughts at their Thanksgiving gathering. My hope for all of us, is that we will be grateful for what we have.

We hope your Happy Thanksgiving thoughts will carry on for you each day of the coming year.

Take care till next time,

Susan

Pre-order your 2015 Egnog Designer Bottle

Classic or Cinnamon Egnog, in the 2015 Designer Bottle, will be delivered December 7 through December 11. Please pre-order by phone before noon on Friday, December 4, by calling 303-776-8466. Feel free to keep the designer bottle if you’d like. Order extra for friends and neighbors and just add a ribbon to make the perfect holiday gift.

MOON RECIPES

Fruit and Granola Crisp

6 cups frozen berries
½ cup sugar
¼ cup flour
2 cups (a 4-pack) Enjoy Biscotti Granola
2 Tbsp. melted butter
Longmont Dairy Whipping Cream, whipped

Preheat oven to 375°F. In a large bowl, combine berries, sugar and flour. Spread mixture onto an ungreased 8-inch baking dish and set aside. In a medium bowl, toss together granola and melted butter, and then sprinkle over top of fruit mixture. Bake in oven about 30 minutes, or until top is golden brown. Let cool then serve with a dollop of whipping cream.

*Recipe adapted from wholefoodsmarket.com
Moo News, November 2015*

History Spotlight. A Look Back at the Eggnog Bottle Design Contest

Our Annual Eggnog Bottle Design Contest began 17 years ago when we decided to print the winning design of the 1999 coloring contest on our holiday eggnog bottles. “We thought young artists might like the thrill of seeing their graphic design displayed on a real product,” Susan Boyd, co-owner, explained.

The first contest winner was Jacqueline Brown, a 7th grade student from Ft. Lupton Middle School. Our Eggnog Bottle Design Contest has since become an annual holiday tradition for Longmont Dairy and our customers. Unlike the regular glass bottles that are returned each week, these can be collected by customers. You can see the winning designs on our website at LongmontDairy.com/eggnog_designs.php.

New Website is Launched

We hope you have noticed our new website. Visit us at LongmontDairy.com to change your order, find recipes from the MooNews, learn about dairy and nutrition, check job openings and just get to know us better. While you are there, click the link to Yelp, Google or Facebook, and let us know how we're doing.

Thanksgiving Day Deliveries

We will deliver, as we normally do, on Thanksgiving morning, Thursday, November 26th. Don't worry, our drivers will be home for Thanksgiving dinner.

Holiday Cookie Dough Flavors are Here!

Mary's Mountain Cookie Dough makes holiday baking easy. Try these irresistible flavors, available through the end of the holidays.

- New! Cranberry Oatmeal White Chocolate Chip
- Roll-Out Cut-Out Sugar Cookie (best choice for cookie decorating)

Tillamook Special Four Year Aged Extra Sharp White Cheddar Cheese

It's so good that it was named “America's Best” by judges at the 2013 Championship Cheese Contest. Perfect for parties or special evenings.

